4a.

Kevin:

I didn't like school so I didn't study much. I spent most of my time going to parties and having fun with my friends. Of course, my grades weren't good and I graduated without any practical skills. After I finished college, I wasn't able to find a well-paid job and I became a gardener's helper. Because my salary was so low, I had to borrow money from a bank to pay back my student loans. Eventually, I had to move back home with my parents. I didn't want to, but I had no choice. While I was living there, I met a girl named Lola and we started going out. We got engaged after a few months but we never had enough money. We fought a lot about that and a year later, we broke up. Now, I live in a small apartment with my cat, Lonestar. He's a great cat. We never fight about anything. But sometimes, I miss Lola.
